Considering the growing importance of space assets and data combined with the current geopolitical tensions it has never been so urgent to build a cyber-resilient and future-proof European ecosystem.

Since 2021, CYSAT has become the must-attend event for the space industry with more than 1000 professionals meeting every year to discuss cybersecurity challenges and solutions.

During the 2-day event, satellite operators, industrial players, agencies, startups and researchers come to CYSAT to network, pitch their latest products and innovations, promote job openings, find business partners.
